

LBJ Milk Fund Story False, Ex-Aide Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — In a memorandum which he has now repudiated, Lyndon B. Johnson's former appointments secretary claimed he got a $40,000-a-year job from the milk producers by talking the late president into a lame-duck decision on milk price supports.

The former aide, James R. Jones, now a Democratic congressman from Tulsa, Okla., said in the memo that he helped pressure the Agriculture Department into recommending the price support action, then talked Johnson into approving it.

Now Jones says there was no White

House pressure and that Johnson was not involved. He said he fabricated the story in an attempt to keep the milk producers' job. However, a new management fired him as a public relations consultant in early 1972.

The memo was placed in the Senate Watergate committee's open files despite a request from Jones' lawyer to suppress it as inaccurate.

It refers to an announcement by then-Agriculture Secretary Orville Freeman on Dec. 26, 1968, that continued the level of milk price supports at $4.28 per hundredweight through the first year of the Nixon administration. Freeman made the announcement less than a month before the new Republican administration took office, months before the normal annual decision on price supports.

Jones wrote the memo to George Mehren, the new general manager of Associated Milk Producers, Inc., on Jan. 18, 1972. Mehren had just taken over the co-op and had fired Jones and many other consultants in a general economy move.

Jones protested, and said he had been given the $40,000-a-year retainer for five years by Mehren's predecessors, Harold Nelson and David Parr.

He said that after Nixon was elected, Nelson and Parr "were anxious to get President Johnson to approve price supports at $4.28 ... They offered me a retainer with AMPI. I declined to talk about it and said I didn't want to consider any offers until we were nearly out of office."

"... We got the Agriculture Department (over some pretty stiff feet dragging) to send the price support recommendation over around Dec. 18.

The President refused to sign it. Finally, after two conversations with him (by me) he did sign." Then Jones nailed down the job, the memo said.

In an interview, Jones said the whole story was a fabrication. "I puffed it," he said. "I'm not proud of it, but that's what I did." He denied that he had talked to Johnson about price supports, and denied that he pressured the Agriculture Department into making the early announcement.

Freeman was unavailable for comment. But Jones' story is backed up by John A. Schnitker, then under secretary of agriculture.

Schnitker, in an interview, said that Freeman decided to announce price supports early to keep the incoming Nixon administration from lowering them. He said he knew of no pressure from the White House and that so far as he knows, Johnson wasn't involved.

Also, Jones had dropped the LBJ story eight days after he wrote the memo. In a letter to Mehren dated Jan. 27, 1972, he said he had just recovered from a "devastating bout with the flu." He said he hadn't meant for the earlier memo to be sent.

See Impeachment

WASHINGTON (AP)—With House debate on the impeachment question due to start in two weeks, some leading congressmen representing both parties and various political philosophies say President Nixon's chances are poor.

Rep. John M. Ashbrook, R-Ohio, a leading House conservative who supports impeachment, said Wednesday he expects the House to vote to impeach Nixon by nearly a 3-1 margin.

House Republican Whip Leslie Arends, generally considered the Republican congressional leader closest to Nixon, said of Nixon's chances of avoiding impeachment: "I would not tell him it looks good."

House Democratic Leader Thomas P. O'Neill predicted more than 75 per cent of the House members will vote to impeach the President.

O'Neill said no firm counts have been taken but said his discussions with members indicate no more than 38 of the 248 House Democrats and fewer than 80 of the 187 Republicans will support the President on impeachment.

Rep. Joe D. Waggoner, D-La., a strong Nixon supporter, thinks even fewer than 38 Democrats will vote against impeachment, O'Neill said.

And the leader of the unsuccessful Nixon defense in the House Judiciary Committee, Rep. Charles Wiggins, R-Calif., said, "At the moment, I would have to say the odds are that the House would pass them (the articles of impeachment)."

The statements came as the House prepared for debate on the three impeachment articles approved by the Judiciary Committee.

A number of procedural matters have to be settled, such as the length of time for debate, whether the proceedings in the House chamber will be televised and whether the committee's articles will be open for amendment.

Meanwhile, there were these related developments:

—O'Neill, a close friend of Vice President Gerald R. Ford, said Ford is well aware of the possibility that Nixon will be removed from office. That step would require a two-thirds vote in the Senate after a majority vote in the House to impeach the President.

—White House aide Patrick J. Buchanan said the White House was keeping open the option of essentially giving up a fight in the House in order to expedite Senate action. However, a number of House members said this would amount to a cop-out.

—Two senators on a panel studying impeachment rules said they oppose a strict definition of what would be required to convict Nixon in a Senate trial. Sens. Robert C. Byrd, D-W. Va., and James Allen, D-Ala., said each senator would make his own judgment by his own standards.

—Sen. Joseph Montoya, D-N.M., said Nixon should not use public money for his own defense in a Senate impeachment trial. Montoya, chairman of a Senate subcommittee reviewing White House budgets, said, "I would not want the President to use one nickel of the money for the White House in this bill for his own defense."

—Nixon's Watergate attorney, James D. St. Clair, disclosed that more than five minutes are missing from White House tapes of a Watergate conversation between the President and two close advisers.

House Speaker Carl Albert met with Judiciary Committee Chairman Peter W. Rodino Jr., D-N.J., to discuss the procedural questions, but no decisions were reported. Rodino said he wanted to talk matters over with other committee members.

The 10 Republican members who voted against impeachment held a meeting of their own to plan defense moves, and later met with House

Midwestern Governors Seek End To Long Daylight Time

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP)—Midwest governors have adopted a resolution urging that the United States drop year-round daylight savings time (DST) and return to the old system of advancing the clock only from April to October.

The governors presented their plea to Federal Energy Administrator John Sawhill Wednesday while he was in Minneapolis to address the Midwest Governors' Conference.

However, Sawhill defended the year-round plan, saying it has resulted in an energy saving of one-half of one per cent, which he called "significant."

"Perhaps I don't fully understand the hardships...It's one of the tough decisions that will have to be made," Sawhill said.

Sawhill also told the governors they should pave the way for electric companies to charge higher rates to consumers. He said utility firms are in "disturbing financial trouble" and may not be able to build the nuclear generating plants needed to lessen U. S. dependence on foreign oil.

Sawhill said power companies have 100 nuclear plants on the drawing boards, but said utilities are failing to attract investors because of low returns.

"It's up to the states to streamline the regulatory process, and to expedite rate decisions so that utilities can quickly meet rising costs," he said.

The energy administrator said utility firms are now netting 11 or 12 per cent, and should be allowed to earn between 14 and 16 per cent.

"There's no question in my mind that the era of low cost energy is over," said Sawhill, adding that the long-range trend for low energy prices is upward.

Farmer's Market Help To Shoppers

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Shoppers in this farm belt city are fighting the supermarket syndrome with something new to them, a farmer's market.

Crowds of shoppers swarm every Tuesday around trucks loaded with corn, tomatoes, squash, cucumbers and other produce, buying everything in sight.

"It's amazing," said Dick Myers, a bearded farmer from Middletown.

Rain Brings Cooler Air

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Rain brought cooler temperatures to the middle Missouri Valley today as clouds hid much of the nation.

Nearly an inch of rain fell on Sioux City, Iowa, while Grand Island, Neb., was washed by half an inch. Temperatures dropped into the 50s and 60s.

Tornadoes were sighted late Wednesday near Sublette, Kan., and Alice, Tex. Three inches of rain drenched Shaw Air Force Base, S.C.

Isolated thundershowers dumped rain throughout the Plateau region. One buffeted portions of Phoenix, Ariz., with winds up to 50 miles per hour and dumped over an inch of rain.

Near the Pacific Coast, low clouds and fog again hung over coastal valleys.

Weather

Mostly sunny today with increasing cloudiness by late afternoon and evening. High, mid 80s. Cloudy tonight, low, mid 60s. Cloudy Friday with a chance of showers and thundershowers, high, low to mid 80s. Probability of precipitation, 10 per cent today, 20 per cent tonight and 40 per cent tomorrow. Temperatures Wednesday were: high, 85; low, 55.

Auto Firms Say Inflation Big Problem

DETROIT (AP) — The nation's Big Three auto makers blame rapid inflation for trimming profits by $1.8 billion during the first half of 1974.

For the consumer, the problems of the mammoth firms will translate into price increases on new models in September.

Ford, which rounded out the first-half picture for the industry Wednesday with a reported 65 per cent earnings decline compared with the same period last year, says it plans an 8 per cent increase in wholesale prices for the opening of the 1975 model year.

The other makers plan similar increases, while leaving open the possibility that price tags will swell as the model year proceeds.

Taken together, the Big Three's first-half earnings were at their lowest level in 13 years.

Ford reported earnings of $291 million on sales of $11.4 billion, down from last year's $755 million profit on revenues of $12.4 billion.

General Motors last week listed first-half earnings off 73 per cent at $426 million on sales of $15.2 billion, compared with $1.6 billion profits on sales of $19.2 billion in 1973.

Chrysler's profits were $29.4 million on sales of $5.7 billion, down 85 per cent from profits of $198 million on sales of $6.1 billion in the first half of 1973.

Total Big Three earnings were $746 million on sales of $32.3 billion, down from profits of $2.55 billion on sales of $37.7 billion a year earlier.

Profits were down from 8.4 per cent of sales in the first half of 1973 to only 2.3 per cent this year, and makers say they have some ground to make up in pricing after a year first under federal controls and then a voluntary price-limiting agreement.

CHAMPIONS—Forrest Short of Circleville and his horse Jerry MacPherson combined to set a new track record at the Pickaway County Fair Wednesday, a record that had stood since 1951. They toured the track in 2:04 in the first heat of the three-year old pace stakes for the win and came back in the second heat for a clear-cut 2:08 victory. Jerry MacPherson was trailing in the quarter, which went in 31 seconds, but led at the half in 1:03.3, and the three-quarter in 1:33.2 during the record-shattering run. The horse is co-owned by Forrest and Harry Short of Circleville.

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market was mixed today as some spotty bargain-hunting checked a week-long slide.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was up 2.97 at 760.40, although losers held on to a 5-3 lead over gainers on the New York Stock Exchange.

Brokers said the particularly steep declines recently in many big-name issues—including some of the blue chips that make up the Dow—had attracted a mild round of bargain-hunting.

Weyerhaeuser was the most active NYSE issue, down 1/4 at 35 3/4. An 81,100-share block of the stock traded at 34 3/4.

On the American Stock Exchange, the Market value index was off .18 at 77.50.

Among recently depressed institutional favorites, Xerox was up 7/8 at 95 1/4; Avon Products 3/8 at 29 3/4; American Home Products 1/4 to 33 1/2, and Merck 3/4 to 67 3/4.

The NYSE's noon composite index of all its listed common stocks was up .07 at 41.62.

The Amex volume leader was Imperial Oil A, down 1/2 at 29 1/2. A 28,900-share block traded at 29.

Telephone Union Gives Big Margin To Strike Approval

WASHINGTON (AP) — Telephone workers have given union leaders overwhelming approval to call a nationwide strike against the Bell System.

No date was set but indications are that a strike could come as early as Monday if negotiators fail to reach agreement on new contracts for 750,000 workers.

The Communications Workers of America called a news conference for 2 p.m. EDT today to announce official results of the strike authorization vote completed at midnight Wednesday.

In event of a strike, Bell said it expects to maintain service with management personnel. Most of the nation's telephone system is automated and a walkout would have little effect on daily service.

"We will continue to provide service with as little interruption as possible," said a spokesman for the Southern Bell Telephone & Telegraph Co. in Atlanta.

A survey by The Associated Press of major locals around the country showed rank-and-file workers voted lopsidedly in favor of a strike.

An official of San Francisco Local 9410 said voting in Northern California ran better than 80 per cent to authorize a walkout. In New York City, Local 1101 approved a strike, 7,760 to 418. Miami Local 3107 voted by a margin of 85 per cent for a strike and a spokesman said members were ready to man the picket lines.

Bell ordered its top negotiators back to Washington in preparation for weekend bargaining sessions and sources indicated the company was likely to offer a new proposal before a scheduled Sunday meeting of the CWA's executive council. The council has authority to set a strike date.

Contracts covering Bell employees expired July 17 and were extended on a daily basis with 48 hours notice required for termination.

Union leaders called for the strike vote July 18 after rejecting a company proposal for a three-year contract providing first-year wage hikes ranging from 6.5 to 10 per cent. Increases of 3.3 per cent were offered in the second and third year of the contract in addition to raises tied to increases in the cost of living.

Impeachment

Republican Leader John J. Rhodes.

Rhodes, who says he remains undecided how to vote on impeachment, is meeting regularly with groups of Republicans to find out where they stand.

Wiggins said the antiimpeachment forces are trying to assure that whatever debate procedures are adopted will provide a fair opportunity for their side to be heard.

They also are working on a minority report that will accompany the committee's report in support of the three articles of impeachment, which charge Nixon with obstruction of justice, abuse of his powers and defiance of committee subpoenas.

In preparation for the debate, both sides on the committee are assigning members to study specific aspects of the case, with the outnumbered Wiggins group turning to non-committee members for help.

As soon as the report is ready, which is expected to be next Wednesday, Rodino will go before the Rules Committee and request a resolution setting a time limit on debate and defining what kind of amendments, if any, will be in order.

Most committee Democrats would like to prevent amendments to the three articles that have been approved, limiting members to motions to strike whole articles or sections of them, or to proposing additional articles.

The approach favored by the anti-impeachment Republicans is just the opposite. They would like any further articles barred and the existing ones open for amendment.

Also awaiting action by the Rules Committee is a resolution that would permit the House debate to be televised. Its approval is considered certain.

Midway Chatter

No football game is complete without a dog running onto the field and the Pickaway County Fair Harness Races had a dog too. The races were delayed for a while until two young volunteers from the stands were able to chase it from the track and infield.

Tonight is the junior fair beef sale 6 p.m. in the show arena for fat cattle has been down this year while the cost of production has skyrocketed.

After today activity slacks at the fairgrounds. The livestock projects are completed today, the tractor pull is this afternoon and tonight. Tomorrow the 4-H club members hold their demonstrations, judging contest and other last day activities.

Friday's grandstand event is the Demolition Derby and then the fair becomes history for another year. This has been one of the best ever, thanks to those who worked so hard to make it that way and the many people who attended it this year.

Co-Op Chief Pleads Guilty To Conspiracy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Harold S. Nelson, former boss of a milk producers' co-op, has pleaded guilty to a conspiracy to bribe John B. Connally and to pay more than $300,000 in illegal political donations.

Nelson admitted on Wednesday that he authorized a payment of $10,000 intended for Connally, a former Texas governor and later Treasury secretary during President Nixon's first term.

Connally, who was indicted on Monday for accepting the $10,000, has said he is innocent and that he will fight the charge.

Nelson, 56, of San Antonio, Tex., pleaded guilty before U.S. District Judge George L. Hart Jr. to charges drawn up by Watergate prosecutors. He faces a maximum penalty of five years in jail and a $10,000 fine.

Nelson admitted that as general manager of Associated Milk Producers Inc., the nation's largest dairy-farmer cooperative, he authorized payment of more than $300,000 to Democrats and Republicans in the elections of 1968, 1970 and 1972.

He also admitted that he had authorized the co-op's former lobbyist, Bob A. Lilly, to give $10,000 to lawyer Jake Jacobsen to pass on to Connally for the Cabinet officer's help in persuading President Nixon to raise federal milk price supports in March 1971. Jacobsen was indicted with Connally on a single bribery charge, and sources say he has agreed to plead guilty and to testify against Connally.

The corporate donations admitted by Nelson include:
—$63,500 to the Democratic National Committee during Hubert H. Humphrey's 1968 presidential campaign.
—$100,000 to repay money given in 1969 to Herbert W. Kalmbach, Nixon's personal lawyer and chief fund-raiser.
—$23,950 to Humphrey's 1970 Senate race.

—$10,000 to the 1970 campaign of former Rep. Page Belcher, R-Okla.

—$5,000 to the 1970 Senate campaign of Phillip Hoff, D-Vt.

—$8,400 to the 1970 Senate campaign of Edmund S. Muskie, D-Maine.

—$82,000 to buy computermail services during the 1972 campaigns of Humphrey, Sen. James Abourezk, D-S.D., and various unnamed Iowa Democrats.

Oil Solution Seen

Dr. W. Philip Gramm is a young professor of economics at Texas A&M and a strong champion of free market forces as the best economic medicine. His views given earlier in the year to congressional investigators on the subject of oil prices and the Arab influence are pertinent now in view of the United States' worsening balance of payments picture.

The high price of imported crude accounts for a large part of the imbalance.

"There is no question that our basic balance of payments position with the Arabs has changed on account of the higher price of crude,"

Gramm said. "If these higher prices hold up and we continue to import the same quantities we do now, it will have a drastic impact on the balance of payments."

"I am not terribly concerned, because I believe these prices are not going to hold up. At these prices, we already are seeing a jump in domestic production and investment. The quantity of imports will decline, if these prices hold up."

Zeroing in on the overemphasis on environmental protection and wage and price controls as factors largely responsible for energy shortages, Gramm said: "As facts have come to replace political rhetoric it has become increasingly clear that government stupidity and not industrial collusion have produced our energy problem in America."

In support of his position that industry is better able to solve the energy problem than government, Gramm said:

"The oil industry can move a gallon of gasoline cheaper from New Orleans to New York than the Post Office can move a first class letter from Dallas to Houston."

Does that mean the next shortage will be in postage stamps?

Bermuda Car Rules

ON THE LINE
By BOB CONSIDINE

ABOARD M-S SEA VENTURE, HAMILTON, BERMUDA — Bermuda fights progress with commendable bravery.

When I first came here in 1932 (I was an apple-cheeked cabin boy on the S.S. Poseidon at the time), the only motorized vehicles on the island were a fire truck or two and an ambulance. Everything else was horse-drawn or moved by way of the quaint little railway system that puffed across the island. People went, if they ever went, by carriage or bicycle. The island enjoyed the world's lowest record for traffic fatalities.

During World War II, we barged in here as part of the 99-year base lease vs. 50 old destroyers deal that Roosevelt cooked up with Churchill.

We refused to ride in carriages or on bikes while Hitler was taking over the world. Bermudians grudgingly consented to allow a few jeeps and personnel vehicles to move around, but restricted them to 18 miles an hour.

The Bermuda taxis, some with parasols, were a post-war phenomenon, apparently born of an awakening of the Department of Tourism and the ancient merchandizing houses. As were the motorized bikes, which crazy Americans who never drove anything more than a hard bargain now occasionally go blissfully to their deaths on.

The Bermuda government's detente with today's world remains wary, in the case of automobiles. The 18-mph speed limit remains the same. Indeed, one of the island's foremost citizens was once sent to jail for exceeding it by two miles an hour. No car can be more than 160 inches long or 64 inches wide. A whole flock of new British Fords had to be reprocessed not long ago to recess their door buttons. Extended a shade beyond 64 inches, y'know.

The law says that there can be no more than one car to a household. The breadwinner goes to work on his motorbike. So the old girl can have a car to do her shopping and so forth. (This has led to one of Bermuda's few rackets: modification of the old homestead so that there are two entrances, instead of one, and no connecting stairs inside. Then the separated household may have two small cars.)

It's not too easy to dispose of your car in Bermuda. You just can't trade it in on a new one. If you sell your car to a friend, you lose your right to drive for one year. But you can sell it to a Bermudian with the stern understanding that it will be converted into a taxi. Or you can have it cut in half, if it is plain worn out. It can then be presented, for free, to the American chaps who are still looking for "fill" to extend their bloody airport and installations. If that succeeds, your truncated car no longer uses the beautiful flower-lined and twisting narrow little roads. So you can buy a new one for the household. Or even two, if there are no connecting stairs.

Haven't been on a ship, to speak of, since the Queen Mary was in the troop-shuttling trade during World War II. Ship-going people, I've rediscovered, are fatter and friendlier than airline passengers. What would you do if you were flying across an ocean and a nice old couple came up to where you were strapped and said, "Hi, we're the Winterbottoms from Snohomish, Wash. Where you folks from?" You'd tend to push the button for the stewardess and have them thrown off at 38,000 feet.

Federal Mortgages At Low Interest Pushed By Union

CHICAGO (AP) — The president of the Carpenters Union, whose members have been hard hit by the slump in housing construction, says federal mortgages at low interest rates should be provided to combat skyrocketing mortgage rates.

William Sidell told 2,500 delegates to the union's 1974 convention on Tuesday that the time has come "to remove the housing industry from the free enterprise banking system."

"In its place, I propose that the federal government broaden the Federal Housing Administration and provide funds directly to the citizen" at interest rates "in the 4 or 5 per cent category."

He described his proposal as a way out for his 850,000 members, who have an unemployment rate estimated at 12 per cent because of the housing slump.

Officials of the National Association of Home Builders reported 2 million housing starts in 1973, but current seasonally adjusted estimates call for a decrease of 597,500 units in 1974. June housing starts were 26 per cent below last year's 1,595,000.

Sidell, a member of President Nixon's Construction Industry Stabilization Committee which was responsible for wage controls in building trades unions, is an advocate of union restraint in wage negotiations.

They'll Do It Every Time

But aboard this floating pleasure dome, you invite the Winterbottoms to share your wine and discover after a day or two you have a distant relative in common, none other than old Sam Fortescue of Ossawatimie, Kans. Big in the feed business.

The jumbo jets are big and broad, but I've never been on one in which I could take a golf lesson from a pro named Paul Smith. Some airlines won't let you dance in the aisles, but on shipboard they seem to insist that you do. Name me an airline that serves hot pizzas at 1:30 a.m.

The most pleasant surprise of this trip has been to hear the human voice once more, the sound as well as the sight of fellow passengers. Why must the silence-of-the-elevator prevail in planes? Here, everybody yaks, eats mountains of Italian food, drinks, takes saunas.

But union officials blame much of the decrease in housing starts on high interest rates and land costs, rather than high wages. They say that in 1949 land costs and interest charges added up to 16 per cent of the cost of a house and today are nearly triple—47 per cent.

Carpenters' wages, at an average of $9.39 an hour and about $6.50 an hour when the shorter working season is taken into account, are not out of line, the union says.

Sidell said his proposal would provide more equitable mortgage payments to the home buyer, an accelerated housing industry and a possible tax reduction resulting from cheaper financing for federal building projects.

Robert A. Georgine, director of the AFL-CIO Building and Construction Trades Department, told a newsman the idea, similar to one advocated by AFL-CIO President George Meany, was "ripe for discussion."

The proposal was criticized, however, by a spokesman for the United States League of Savings Associations, who said it would add to inflation by increasing federal spending.

Loan Firm Officers Sentenced

NEWPORT, Ky. (AP) — Circuit Judge John P. Lair, saying "the jury has spoken," Tuesday imposed heavy sentences and fines on two former officers of the bankrupt Harmony Loan Co.

The month-long trial in Campbell Circuit Court ended last week. The $1.5 million fraud case had been pursued by the Kentucky Securities Commission.

James J. Mathews of Cincinnati, former president of the company, was sentenced to 11 years and four months in jail and fined $102,000.

Former vice president and board chairman James Spampinato, also of Cincinnati, was sentenced to six years in prison and fined $54,000.

Both were released on appeal bonds matching their fines. Eleven other persons are to stand trial in the case. The prosecution charged the officers used investor funds to pay interest to other investors to cover a $1.5 million deficit.

The firm was forced into bankruptcy in 1972 after the Kentucky Securities Commission banned further bond sales.

Name Hughes In Indictment

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Billionaire Howard Hughes and three others have been charged with conspiracy, stock manipulation and fraud by a federal grand jury that made an aboutface in 24 hours.

The grand jury accused the four men on Tuesday of trying to force down the value of Air West stock to make it easier for Hughes to gain financial control of the regional airline. Now called Hughes Airwest, Hughes took it over on Dec. 31, 1968.

The charges are a streamlined version of an indictment returned last Dec. 27 which was thrown out by a federal judge. He termed it "the worst case of criminal pleading" he had ever seen.

When the charges were thrown out Jan. 30, the jury was given six months to return a new indictment, a time limit which expired Tuesday midnight.

The grand jury, the same one that handed down the original charges, had met Monday but returned no indictments.

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Sometimes my eyes begin to itch intolerably when I go to visit my mother in the country.

A friend who has a similar problem told me that hers was caused by a "trich." No one seems to know what this is, not even she. Can you help me?

Miss L. E., Penna.

Dear Miss E.: Your symptom of intolerable itching is a common one, and is often associated with marked tearing of the eyes, and even pain when there is excessive light.

This appears to be a severe allergic reaction. The symptoms are more prevalent in the spring and summer. Smears taken from the secretion in the eyes may show certain cells which are characteristic of an allergy. The exact substance that you are allergic to must, of course, be determined by special tests for sensitivity.

Treatment with antihistamine drugs and cortisone are beneficial.

Now, about "trich." This is a strange organism that resembles both bacteria and viruses. It is rarely seen in America. It is related to the contagious disease of "trachoma." You can be sure that this is not your problem.

People who suffer from vernal (spring) conjunctivitis can often learn the substance that they are highly sensitive to and thus avoid many of the unpleasant symptoms.

Is there any value to massage as a way of losing weight?

Mrs. D.P.B., N.H.

Dear Mrs. B.:

It is a misconception to believe that excess poundage can be "rubbed off." Pockets of fat may be redistributed, but cannot be "lost" with active or passive massage.

There are, however, other advantages to good, sensible massage. It tones the muscles, and gives one a sense of well-being and invigoration.

One must not delude one's self into believing that massage is a way of avoiding calorie counting.

The single accepted law of weight reduction is based on reducing the calorie intake. When the calories we eat are greater than the calories we require for our daily activities it is inevitable that a weight gain will follow.

Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The OECD has issued its economic outlook for member countries through mid-1975, and its main conclusion needs little elaboration:

"Cooperation and consultation between governments have never been more necessary than they are today, given the unaccustomed and troubled waters on which the world economy is now embarked."

The 24-member organization, made up of the world's most active trading nations, didn't spare the details: inflation at "very high rates," growth prospects "uncertain," big oil payments deficits, rising labor costs.

In short, a grim outlook from this, the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development, formed in 1960 to seek for its members the highest sustainable growth and employment, rising living standards and financial stability.

The brightest aspect of the outlook appeared to be for commodity prices, with the OECD forecasting a "marked improvement" by the end of the year. Even this good news was followed by a "however."

Labor costs, the forecaster stated, "will almost certainly cause increasing pressure on the price level as wage earners seek to re-establish former living standards and strive for at least some growth in real earnings."

Therefore, the statement continues, it is expected that "in most member countries wage pressure will produce a substantially higher rise in unit labor costs than in 1973."

No nation, the OECD makes clear, is immune from the ravages of inflation, the disruptions resulting from shortages, the demands of citizens for a higher standard of living. In these respects, the world is one.

Governors Hail Budget Plan As Cooperation Breakthrough

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — White House agreement to consult state and local officials in the federal budget-making process has been hailed by governors as a breakthrough in federal cooperation.

The first of a series of meetings on the budget involving state and local representatives will be in Washington shortly after Sept. 1, Kenneth R. Cole Jr., President Nixon's chief economic adviser, said Tuesday at the 1974 Western Governors' Conference here.

"We're looking for their input, their suggestions on things to be done and where programs can be cut," Cole said in discussing the plan with Govs. Calvin L. Rampton, Utah Democrat and chairman of the National Governors' Conference, and Daniel J. Evans, Washington Republican.

Evans, chairman of the national conference last year, said the decision represented a new spirit of cooperation between the Nixon administration and other levels of government and a recognition of growing leadership at the national level by the 50 state governors.

The budget meetings will involve federal officials and the "New Coalition," a group representing the governors' conference, National League of Cities, U.S. Conference of Mayors, National Association of Counties and state legislators' organizations.

This will be the first time governors and local leaders have had an opportunity to present a united front at the start of the budget-writing process, Evans said.

"We will have some input from the start instead of merely being in a position of reacting to something that is handed to us," he said.

This will be particularly important next year because of President Nixon's determination to check inflation by restricting federal spending, Evans said.

"It's going to be a tough budget," he said, adding the joint decisions reached are bound to affect federal domestic policy.

The meetings, which will involve the Office of Management and Budget as well as Cole, tentatively are scheduled to continue through January, when the President will unveil the budget for the fiscal year starting July 1, 1975.

Evans, who has accused the Nixon administration in the past of neglecting the needs of the states, said he has been working toward such an arrangement for nearly five years.

Pontious Church Is Setting For Mosley-Ratcliff Wedding

MR. AND MRS. STEVE ALLAN RATCLIFF

Pontious United Methodist Church was the setting for the 2:30 p.m., June 30th wedding of Miss Debra Kathryn Mosley and Mr. Steve Allan Ratcliff. The Rev. Liston Halley Jr. performed the double ring ceremony for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald W. Mosley, Stoutsville, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Merle T. Ratcliff, Route 1, Stoutsville.

Miss Sherry Hartley, organist, and Mr. Bob Bensonhaver, vocalist, presented a program of music. Selections included "Each For The Other," "Twelfth Of Never," "We've Only Just Begun" and as the couple knelt at the altar, "The Wedding Prayer."

The altar was decorated with arrangements of red roses and fern. Pink and blue carnations with baby's breath and two seven branch candelabra formed the background. White satin bows with carnations, daisies and sprigs of ivy marked the pews.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father and given in marriage by both her parents. She selected for her wedding a bridal ensemble with a long silk illusion veil outlined in sequin trimmed scalloped chantilly lace caught to a lace Camelot cap trimmed with a tailored satin bow. Matching trim outlined the oval neckline and cuffed the long full sleeves. Lace and sequins topped the flounce around the floor length skirt which gathered softly into a full train. The bride carried a cascade bouquet of daisies, pink roses and sprigs of ivy. Her only jewelry was a wedding cross necklace, a gift of the bridegroom.

The lighting of a large candle by the couple from two smaller ones during the ceremony signified the union.

Miss Donna Jean Mosley was maid of honor for her sister. She wore a floor length gown of pink lace over organza. The bodice featured a high neckline and short puffed sleeves. Her headpiece consisted of pink ribbons streaming from pink netting. She carried a single long stemmed red rose.

Bridesmaids were Miss Linda Koonce and Miss Pat Davis, friends of the bride. They wore floor length gowns of pink lace over organza. The bodices featured square necklines and long full sleeves. They each carried single roses. Their headpieces matched that of the honor attendant and their jewelry, wedding bell necklaces, were gifts of the bride.

Miss Laura Thompson, cousin of the bride, was flower girl. She was attired in a pink and blue lace floor length gown with a flounce at the hemline and carried a pink basket filled with rose petals.

Mr. Mark Garrett performed the duties of best man. Mr. Bill Mosley, brother of the bride, and Mr. Bill Young were ushers. Master Scott Schooley, cousin of the bridegroom,

MR. AND MRS. JAMES J. RINAUDO

Miss Joyce Valentine Weds James J. Rinaudo

Trinity Lutheran Church in Circleville was the setting for the June 15th marriage of Miss Joyce Lynn Valentine and Mr. James J. Rinaudo.

Pastor Carl Zehner officiated at the afternoon double ring ceremony for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Valentine of 156 West High St., Circleville and the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Rinaudo of Culberson, N. C. Mrs. Tom Downing, organist, presented a program of nuptial selections preceding the ceremony.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father and given in marriage by both parents. She was attired in a white floor length gown of organza and satin with an attached chapel train. The empire silhouette bodice featured a high split neckline and long sheer sleeves. Venice lace and pearls were applied on the bodice and trimmed the length of the sleeves. Her caplet headpiece was of matching lace with an elbow length veil of illusion. The bride's bouquet was a cascade of white daisies and miniature white carnations, accented with yellow roses. She carried a white lace handkerchief which her grandmother had carried at her wedding in 1900.

Mrs. Jo Ann Carlson served as her sister's matron of honor. She wore a floor length yellow floral print organza and satin gown and carried a cascade of pink and white sweetheart roses and baby's breath.

Mr. Tom Evans performed the duties of best man. Ushers were the bride's cousin, Mr. Joseph E. Goeller II and the bride's brother-in-law, Mr. William G. Carlson.

The bride's mother wore a two piece beige knit dress with matching accessories. Her corsage consisted of miniature pink carnations, pink rosebuds and blue cornflowers.

The bridegroom's mother selected a sky blue dress with matching accessories and wore a corsage of white miniature carnations with blue cornflowers.

A reception in the church parlor followed the ceremony. The three tiered cake was decorated with yellow rosebuds and encircled with daisies and fern. Hostesses were Mrs. Mary Ellen Tully, Mrs. Judy Goode and Mrs. Linda Goeller, cousins of the bride.

For a honeymoon, the couple traveled the countryside along the Mason-Dixon Line. They now reside at 4186 Suitland Road, Suitland, Md.

The new Mrs. Rinaudo graduated from Circleville High School and Washington D.C. General Hospital as a registered nurse. Mr. Rinaudo is a member of the U.S. Navy and is stationed in Virginia.

Members of the family attending from out-of-state included the bridegroom's parents from North Carolina and the bride's aunt from Florida. Other guests were from Washington D.C., Gahanna, Harrisburg, and Columbus, Ohio.

She also told of her experiences while attending lily shows and conventions with her son, Handy.

Among the beautifully landscaped lily gardens are many other types of plantings. Edging the lot were smaller areas of wild flowers, varieties of hosta, trees and ornamental shrubs.

At the conclusion of the tour Mrs. Hatfield answered questions and members were given the opportunity to order their favorite lily varieties while enjoying refreshments provided by Mrs. William Fischer, Mrs.

Raymond Cundiff and Mrs. Paul Berrigan.

Installation of officers will be conducted on Aug. 28th at Little's Lair near Kingston. A carry-in salad smorgasbord will provide refreshments.

Members of the club planned to participate in Pickaway County Fair by taking registrations for the flower shows.

Workmen's Comp Law Already Under Review

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Legislators apparently must wait until next year in their attempt to exempt Ohio employers of part-time help such as lawn boys and baby sitters from workmen's compensation coverage.

They failed to get their bill out of the recent one-day legislative session on supplemental appropriations. Leaders said there would not be another full session this year.

"We won't come back unless something comes up that we can't see now," said Rep. Vernal G. Riffe Jr., D-89 New Boston, House Speaker pro tem.

Sen. Ronald M. Mottl, D-24 Parma, and Sen. Howard C. Cook, R-1 Toledo, sought repeal at the July 23 session of the requirement for Ohioans who pay a casual worker as much as $50 over a three-month period to buy workmen's compensation coverage.

Mottl introduced earlier the bill to change provisions of the 1973 workmen's compensation law, which became effective July 1. Mottl proposed that an employer would not have to cover his hired worker unless he paid him as much as $250 over a three-month period.

"That would exempt the boy who cuts your grass or the occasional baby sitter," said Mottl, who was besieged with complaints in his district after about 100,000 Ohioans discovered they had to fork over $10 to the state for registration.

Another advocate of change was Anthony Stringer, administrator of the Bureau of Workmen's Compensation, who said the elderly, young married couples and others of moderate income were not given full consideration during legislative debate on the 1973 law.

"I think we made a mistake with that law," Stringer said.

Stringer acknowledged that it might be unusual to be re-examining the law so soon after it went into effect.

"I don't want to appear dumb, but, after all government is not or should not be run in a vacuum," he said. "A lot of the time you don't really feel the effects of a new law until you start to administer it."

Stringer said the $50 limit came nationally. "It originally was among the recommendations from the Nixon commission which made a national study of workmen's compensation laws," he said.

The Nixon commission, he said, made 19 recommendations with a suggestion to the President that if the states did not comply with all or most of them by 1975 that the federal government take over the workmen's insurance program.

"All the states were under pressure," said Stringer. "Sen. (Jacob) Javits, R-N.Y., didn't wait until 1975. He introduced a bill this year and hearings already have been completed on it."

Although the General Assembly passed the law in 1973, the part that extended coverage to domestic help didn't become effective until July 1 this year.

The state gave Stringer's office $87,000 to publicize the change, the educational program didn't really get into swing until about three months ago. The campaign included pamphlets and posters distributed by the 16 regional offices of the bureau along with broadcast interviews and a considerable effort by Ohio's newspapers to make the provisions of the law known to the public.

Stringer rejected the idea that homeowners should be entirely let off from purchasing coverage for their employees along with the argument that homeowners who carry liability insurance already give employees the same protection — in some cases for nothing.

"That just isn't true," he said.

CABLE TELEVISION—Dean Huprick, left, Circleville Cable and Associates, was the guest speaker at the Kiwanis Meeting, Monday at Pickaway Arms. The topic of the program was "CATV for Circleville". Huprick said Cable Television should be available to residents this fall. A 140-foot tower has already been constructed east of Circleville on Route 56. He also advised this is a system where TV signals are picked up by the antenna on the high tower and fed by cable to subscribers sets. Eight programming channels will be available, plus weather channel and channels for school and city use. He was introduced by Frank Gans, right.

Lottery Winners Must Take Cash

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)— Ohio State lottery winners will have to be satisfied with cash for awhile because a lottery commission spokesman said it will probably be winter before a wider variety of prizes can be given out.

The commission had considered offering a special drawing for door prizes for those buying tickets at the 1974 Ohio State Fair.

However, a provision in the proposed lottery rules filed with the secretary of the state prohibit the commission from giving out any gifts other than cash, the spokesman said.

James Skelly, lottery information officer, said he expects the commission to eventually ask the Ohio Legislature to authorize a wider variety of prizes.

"We have to look forward to the day when the game begins slowing down and we need to spice things up with prizes such as mobile homes, cruises or whatever tangible things people will get excited about," Skelly said.

Lottery Counsel Stephen Parisi confirmed that there is no authorization for the commission to distribute non-cash prizes.

He suggested that the commission could take a roundabout route of lining up prearranged merchandise that winners could "buy" with their cash.

The commission said nearly 10,000 prospective ticket vendors had submitted their applications by Monday's deadline.

Participating bankers are being briefed on lottery procedures at conferences in Akron, Columbus and Lima, the commission said.

John Kirkland, lottery director, said some 12 million game tickets should be in the hands of vendors and regional lottery coordinators by the time sales start.

The first drawings are set for Parma on Aug. 22 and at the State Fair on Aug. 29.

Gov. John J. Gilligan is to kick off the sales by buying the first 50-cent ticket.

Lottery commissioners have agreed to negotiate with state Agriculture Director Gene Abercrombie about allowing ticket sales at the State Fair.

Ohio Power Seeks Hike

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Power Co. Wednesday asked the state Public Utilities Commission to allow it to raise its rates between $2 and $8 per month for all of its customers.

This would represent about a 22 percent rate increase for its 571,000 residential, commercial and industrial subscribers, the company said.

"Our rates today are among the lowest in Ohio and will remain so, even with approval of the rate increase," said F.N. Bien, company executive vice president.

Bien blamed inflation, new construction, rising costs, taxes and costs of environmental protection equipment as reasons for the request.

"We have been operating since last December with rates based on 1970 operations. Those rates were approved by the PUOCO some 2½ years after they were requested," Bien said. "The increase we are requesting is based on our cost of doing business in 1973."

Ohio Power serves central and southeastern Ohio, and is headquartered in Canton.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Woman Rescues Dogs Living In Sin

DEAR ABBY: Now I've heard everything. Some woman out in California was so appaled by animals living in "sin" that she has founded The First Religion For Animals. She recently "married" two poodles, so now I suppose she can sleep better knowing that whatever these dogs do is legal, and therefore respectable.

Abby, do you actually believe that dogs are ashamed of anything they do, and that it makes a difference to them if they are "married" or not?

PUZZLED IN PITTSBURGH
DEAR ABBY: A "marriage ceremony" won't mean a thing to a couple of poodles, because dogs are not ashamed of their biological urges, which is more than I can say for the lady in California. Her "marrying" the dogs will help HER-not them.

DEAR ABBY: As a mother of two and grandmother of none (so far), may I jump into the "to-have-or-not-to-have-children" issue?

When anyone asks my daughter (who's been married for four years) whether she plans to have any children she says: "We're not ready for children yet. Children are great, but once you have them, if you find out that motherhood isn't all it's cracked up to be, you can't send 'em back."

I think her attitude is far more realistic than girls who get all dewey-eyed over tiny babies-until they spit up, wet their diapers and cry all night.

I know. My children were no picnic to raise, and I admire my daughter and others in her generation who are wise enough to do their growing up before they have children of their own to bring up.

MRS. S. IN VA.
DEAR MRS. S.: Right on! Nothing is sadder than seeing children trying to bring up children.

DEAR ABBY: My son is being married. His mother and I have been divorced for two years, after 26 years of marriage. She still hasn't married the loverboy who broke up our home. I have had no contact with my "ex" since our divorce, and although I've forgiven her, I don't care if I never see her again.

I am informed that loverboy will be at the wedding. I don't wish to shake hands with him or her.

Wouldn't it simplify matters if I just stayed away? Any suggestions?

MIDWESTERNITE
DEAR MID: If you want to go to your son's wedding, why let Loverboy keep you away? You needn't shake hands with anyone. Keep a comfortable distance, and if you meet head-on, give them a polite nod, and keep walking.

Wallace Bewails Impeachment

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)— Gov. George C. Wallace says "it would be a traumatic experience for the nation to have a president impeached."

But Wallace added, in his first public comment on the impeachment proceedings, he doesn't mean to imply that he thinks the impeachment process should be abandoned.

"I just wish the things they are charging President Nixon with had never happened," he said.

RECOGNITION—Lieutenant Governor John W. Brown presents Wayne Martin of Circleville, center, and Mostyn "Tony" Garrett of Darby Twp. with Honorary Lieutenant Governor Commissions in recognition of their many years of service as members of the Pickaway County Fair Board. They have the longest tenure. Martin, who didn't know the exact year he began working with the fair board, has been associated with the race committee for at least 17 years. Garrett has been active for 17 years serving as a 4-H advisor and on the dairy exhibit committee. "I am always pleased when I am able to present an Honorary Lieutenant Governor's Commission. Because this means that the individual selected to receive the award has served his community, county, state and country unselfishly as a public servant for many, many years and is a model American worthy of recognition," Brown said.

Attic Space Built Without Houses

CHICAGO (AP) — More than three million square feet of attic space is being built in Chicago's densely populated suburbs, and not a square inch of it is attached to a house. "People need places to store things, and apartment and condominium builders never seem to provide enough space," says Ray Hitchcock, an O'Brien Engineering Co. vice president. The firm's answer is the mini-warehouse. For a fee ranging from $2.50 to $3.75 per square foot, clients can store by the month anything from boats on trailers to unwanted gifts. The thrust of the development is directed toward the young, cramped apartment dweller whose hobbies and buying power have combined to threaten self-eviction. With homes being constructed without attics—or basements, in many areas—homeowners, too, find extra storage space attractive, Hitchcock said. Out-of-season sports equipment, clothing and other goods not needed daily but unworthy of a garage sale are among items most often stored, according to the firm. Another sought-after client is the businessman who has run out of warehouse space, or didn't have any to begin with. Basic rental units range in size from 60 to 250 square feet. Within a few months, O'Brien's construction subsidiary, will erect 24 of the new-fangled attics. The cost averages $750,000 for a 60,000-square-foot warehouse. "We figure we can get one renter from every 18 apartments," Hitchcock said. "We plan to construct three million square feet of storage space within three years," Hitchcock said. O'Brien, a commercial architectural firm, developed the plans for the miniwarehouses, but builds them for a variety of investors. Hitchcock says the miniwarehouses have been built in the less-populated West and Southwest for some time.

Patrolman Becomes 6th Ohio ACE

Columbus, Ohio State Highway Patrolman Donnie W. Dutton, of the Marietta Post, became the Patrol's sixth ACE of 1974 on July 28, when he recorded his fifth apprehension of an auto thief since Jan. 1.

Ptl. Dutton is a double ACE award winner since he also achieved five recoveries and apprehensions in 1973. This year he earned one recovery and apprehension in March, one in May, two in June, and one in July. Four of the stolen cars were registered in Ohio and one in Illinois.

The annual Blue Max award is presented to the Patrol officer recovering the most stolen vehicles with on-the-spot apprehensions. When a Patrolman accumulates five auto larceny arrests, he receives an ACE certificate and special license plate to display on his patrol car. Each time the officer makes this type of arrest he is given a lightning bolt decal to be displayed on the left front door of his patrol car.

Land Sales Are Blocked

WASHINGTON, D.C. (AP)—A land developer near Columbus, Ohio, is being halted from making sales because the developer allegedly failed to meet certain federal guidelines.

The suspension was ordered by the Department of Housing and Urban Development against the Whetstone, Inc., development, Candlewood Lake.

The department's office of interstate land sales registration cited Whetstone for allegedly omitting mention in its official report that the developer had settled a racial discrimination suit last week by signing an agreement to recruit non-white employees and solicit black customers.

The developer also allegedly failed to meet proposed completion dates for facilities at Candlewood Lake and did not indicate planned completion dates for additional facilities, the HUD office said.

The suspension order will remain in effect until the omissions are corrected, the government said.

Westmoreland In 'Voice Rest'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Retired Army Gen. William C. Westmoreland, who recently lost a bid for the Republican nomination for governor of South Carolina, is undergoing "voice rest" at the Army's Walter Reed Hospital.

The Army said Tuesday that Westmoreland is being treated for persistent laryngitis and is due to be released soon.

The former U.S. commander in Vietnam and Army chief of staff entered the hospital Monday, the Army said.

Ford Sees Leadership Vacuum

DEARBORN, Mich. (AP) — Henry Ford II says the impeachment proceedings against President Nixon have created a vacuum of economic leadership in Washington, hurting auto industry sales.

But the chairman of Ford Motor Co. predicted on Tuesday that despite the impeachment move, the 1975 model year would see a "gradual slowing of inflation" and a boost in U.S. auto sales by up to one million units over the current model year.

Ford, who supported the President's re-election effort in 1972, would not say whether Nixon should resign or be removed.

"I have no comment on that," he said.

"Generally speaking there's been a lack of confidence on the part of the consumer. There's no question it's there and it has affected car sales of 1974."

Ford made his remarks at a news conference during the company's preview of its 1975 model cars which go on sale Sept. 27.

He also said the company would reduce its capital spending in the United States next year by more than $220 million because of disappointing profits, rising costs and the prospect for only a modest increase in car sales in 1975. Ford's current capital spending in the United States is $650 million. Current worldwide capital spending is about $1 billion and next year's will be cut from 5 to 8 per cent, Ford said.

Set Hearing On Dismissal

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The State Board of Personnel Review said it will decide in one or two weeks whether to uphold the firing of George Skaljac, a highway worker for the state Department of Transportation.

Skaljac was fired because of his alleged participation in the U.S. Senate Campaign of John Glenn during the primary, transportation department officials said.

The board heard testimony from 29 witnesses Tuesday, some whom said they saw Skaljac helping to remodel and paint Glenn's Youngstown headquarters.

Others claimed that Skaljac accompanied Glenn during campaign appearances in Mahoning County, said Earl Allison, the board's executive secretary.

Allison said that Skaljac testified he signed a letter in April resigning as Glenn's Mahoning County coordinator.

Skaljac, in his own testimony and through the testimony of others, tried to show that other state workers have engaged in similar political activity and have not been fired, Allison said.

He said the board ruled most of this testimony out of order as irrelevant to the case.

Scope Of Rural Crime Probed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — It's not as safe as it once was down on the farm. Crime is increasing.

The Ohio Farm Bureau Federation is trying to find out what the problem is and how to solve it.

Ohio's rural citizens "just like in the cities are victims of theft, burglary, murder, larceny, you name it," said Lowell Ridenour, coordinator of the project to discover the scope of rural crime.

He also thinks there might not be enough law enforcement to go around for citizens who live outside cities, and he hopes to get answers about that.

The bureau is cooperating with researchers at Ohio State University in the program which may be the first of its kind in the nation.

"I don't believe there has been a complete study anywhere in the United States about this, although many millions have been spent to find out about crime in the cities," Ridenour said.

Leonard E. Schnell, president of the 60,000-member federation, said rural crime has been "generally overlooked, but it definitely is on the increase."

Biggest problem is theft of farm equipment, livestock and other possessions, he said.

"We have a problem," said Don E. Fisher, executive director of the Buckeye State Sheriffs Association.

"We've had thefts of tractors, for example. They're not registered and if the farmer doesn't have motor numbers and the like there's not much chance of recovering the tractor."

"When meat was so highpriced, of course, we had a lot of rustling, too."

Ridenour said, "I was surprised, almost amazed, at the reports of vandalism our members have reported since we started our project in April."

"We've been told about people playing hide-and-seek in cornfields on motorcycles, tearing down gates, all kinds of crazy things. Our members are quite concerned about it."

The Farm Bureau has a 10-member advisory council looking into the problem. It hopes to recommend solutions. The council includes sheriffs, police chiefs, judges prosecutors, farmers and rural businessmen.

Ridenour said the council will meet in Columbus Aug. 13 to receive first data from Ohio State researchers, who have been scanning sheriffs' records and interviewing rural residents by mail and personally.

Proposed solutions are scheduled to be tested in Medina, Ashland, Wayne, Perry, Hocking, Athens, Madison, Clark and Fayette counties.

Council members are Sheriffs Robert W. Barnett of Trumbull County and Mark R. Kauble of Wyandot County; Judge Edmund G. James of Noble County; Police Chief William Marvin of Richwood; State Highway Patrolman Theodore Byus of Marysville; Prosecutor Morris J. Turkelson of Warren County; Homer Ober of Urbana; James L. Dahlenburg of Delaware, and Charles Reisinger of Jackson.

PAPER MAKING—Actual paper manufacturing on an intricate small-scale paper machine has been a feature of Miami University's third annual High School Pulp and Paper Workshop. Students from four states attended the five-day workshop for instruction in the principles of paper production and discussion of career opportunities in that and related fields. Scott Jones, 206 Cedar Heights Road, far left, was one of those attending the workshop. This is the only such program in the state and one of only eight in the nation.

HOME EC AWARDS—Among the seven young women who were recognized during the annual Miami University Department of Home Economics Awards program held each spring was Miss Judith Schein (second from right), Route 1, Williamsport. Miss Schein was the recipient of the Stouffer Scholarship. She is a sophomore at Miami and was presented with $200 appropriated each year by the Stouffer Food Corporation Fund trustees. The merit award is given annually to a home economics major based upon scholarship. Four of the Miami scholarship recipients are shown with Dr. C. Neale Bogner, dean of the School of Education.

Miss Judith Schein, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul D. Schein, was the recipient of the Stouffer Scholarship merit Award in Miami University's annual Home Economics Awards Program. The award in the amount of $200 is given annually by the Stouffer Food Corporation Fund to home economic majors who have displayed exceptional scholarship ability.

Miss Schein is a graduate of Westfall High school. At Miami, she is a member of Kappa Delta Phi, Owens, the Choral Union and Sigma Sigma Sorority. She also serves as scholarship secretary for the sorority and has achieved both the President's List and the Dean's List. She has been a member of 4-H Clubs for the past ten years.

Four Pickaway County women received bachelor of arts degrees at Ashbury College in Wilmore, Ky. during the recent graduation ceremonies.

Degrees were received by Sandra Frazier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Frazier, Route 1, in elementary education; Rose Brevard Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. Lewis Brevard, Oak Park, in psychology; Barbara McCain, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kester McCain, Tarlton Road, in Christian education; Twana Moats, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Moats, in secondary education.

Among the 180 high school seniors enrolled in the third session of Indiana State University's 1974 Summer Honors Program is Susan Holveck, 580 Oakland Terrace. Miss Holveck is spending the two weeks on the ISU campus working and studying under the guidance of the university faculty.

Outstanding members of their class as juniors, the young people will be engaged in varying activities in each of four seminars: archaeology, government and politics, life science, and radio-television-film.

Pamela Kempton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Kempton, Laurelville, was among those students at Madison College who earn Dean's List honors. A record 1,273 students at Madison were named to the Dean's List for the second semester of the 1973-74 academic year. The college's total enrollment during the semester was 6,350.

To earn a place on the Dean's List, a student must have taken at least 14 semester hours and achieved a grade point average of at least 3.25 on a 4.0 grading scale.

Four names of students from Pickaway County attending the Ohio State University were inadvertently omitted from the last listing of the university's honor roll. Also attaining 3.5 or better grade point averages for the spring quarter at OSU were the following students:

Joseph Perry Lombardo, Route 1, Ashville; Diana Lynn Pobst, Route 2, Ashville; Daniel Alan Chrismer, Route

1, Ashville; Norman Otis Burmaster, 280 Sherwood Drive.

AT BOOKS IN THE CHILDREN'S LIBRARY

Feeling nostalgic about happy childhood days on a comfy porch swing with a good book? When noisy television shows begin to clutter up the evening, give your children a good book.

Fourth graders who long for adventure will like the newest science fiction book by Jay Williams, "Danny Dunn, Invisible Boy." Danny's friend, Professor Bullfinch allows Danny to test his latest invention. This device allows the operator to hear and see everything within great distance and remain unseen himself. Danny's troubles begin when the army gets interested in the equipment for their own purposes. Boys will be fascinated by the possibilities of a spying machine.

Many boys dream of owning a fast car. Photographs of the latest model Indianapolis cars enliven Frank Orr's newest book, "Great Moments in Auto Racing." Technical data on recent improvements and inside details of how racers use their special skills to win races create exciting reading. And while dreaming, why not dream big? In "The Sky is Yours", sporty airplanes beckon invitingly. Information on flying techniques and basic facts on what makes a plane fly are included. Photographs add interest in this book for older boys.

And, just in time for the 1974 baseball season are action stories of "Modern Baseball Superstars." Cincinnati fans will applaud the author's analysis that Johnny Bench is baseball's finest catcher. Recommended for the active boy who wants to read a story in one brief sitting.

All kids know what a tractor looks like, but there are some surprises in a new book, "Jobs in Agribusiness." Photographs of the inside of a mushroom factory and a food processing plant with its giant mixers accompany articles on the less well known branches of the food industry.

The interest in ghosts is as big as ever and we have new material for young people who have read everything on the subject. The spirits in "The Haunting of America" have wandered in and out of the lives of Americans since earliest times. Sudden and tragic deaths give rise to ghostly beings who have unfinished business on earth. Before you write it all off as ridiculous, read how many eminent guests in our own White House have reported seeing the shadowy figure of Abraham Lincoln. This one is for older children. For the same age group, "The Secret of the Seven Crows" will entertain lovers of mischievous ghosts, lost treasures and spooky old houses.

Young girls will cry along with Linda as she faces giving up her stray puppy she has grown to love. "Gabriel" is the story of a girl's love for animals and the challenging world of show dogs. Another winning animal story is "Foolish Filly" which describes how to care for horses and features full page color photographs.

Finally, a very timely book with television bringing the workings of Congress so dramatically to our attention. "What a State Governor Does" shows a busy governor at work through photographs and documentary style text.

With a few books like these, kids may just enjoy a quiet evening; well, once in a while maybe.

Drop Rhodes Poster Investigation

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Franklin County Prosecutor George C. Smith said Wednesday he doesn't believe promotion flyers advertising a poster purportedly showing former Gov. James A. Rhodes in the nude violated Ohio's campaign laws.

Calling the flyers "deplorable," Smith said he didn't believe they violated two misdemeanor statutes of Ohio law beyond a reasonable doubt. He said he wouldn't present the case to a grand jury.

Smith, Republican candidate for attorney general, was given the case by the current attorney general, Democrat William J. Brown, who said an initial investigation showed that the issue was strictly a Franklin County matter.

Secretary of State Ted W. Brown, also a Republican, conducted a hearing about the promotion and turned his findings over to the attorney general.

Danny Mahon, a former public relations man in the Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation, creator of the poster, said he was motivated by money, not politics.

The secretary of state said he launched his probe after a statehouse newsman showed him one of him on the promotion flyers. It did not list the name and address of the sender, required on campaign material.

Order Girls To Apologize In Flag Case

EAST LIVERPOOL, Ohio (AP) — Two teenage girls have been ordered by a juvenile court judge to run advertisements in a newspaper reading: "we publicly apologize and declare that we love our country."

The ad is only part of the penalty Judge Guy Mauro imposed on the 15 and 16-year-old East Liverpool girls who burned a small American flag earlier this month on a city street.

Judge Mauro said he ordered the apology "to impress upon the girls and minors generally that the American flag is something to be respected and not spit upon."

He also ordered the girls to attend the raising and lowering of the city hall flag each day until school starts.

The girls must observe a curfew for the next six months and have been forbidden to contact each other by phone, letter or in person for the next year, the judge added.

Mauro said the girls apparently got the flag from a local bank that was passing them out just before the Fourth of July to celebrate the bank's 100th anniversary.

He said the girls claimed they burned the flag because it had dropped on the ground.

"The court didn't buy that," he added.

Vet Students Payments Set At OU-L

Advance payment for Veteran Students for the fall quarter is now in its second year at Ohio University-Lancaster. If you were enrolled spring or summer 1974 on more than a half-time basis you are eligible to receive your first month's check when you register for fall quarter.

In order to qualify you must fill out a Veteran Benefits Master Card prior to Aug. 10. These cards are available at the Veteran's Information Office, Ohio University-Lancaster Campus, 1570 Granville Pike, Lancaster, Ohio 43130.

Former Clerk Dies

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Services for Robert MacDonald, 73, who served as clerk of Cincinnati for 41 years before retiring in 1970, will be held Friday. He died of a heart ailment Wednesday.

Smith said he decided the flyer was not campaign material and it was not authored primarily to defeat a candidate. He said those were his two major legal considerations.

"I personally find it deplorable," he added. "I agree with Secretary of State Ted W. Brown that Ohio laws are weak in the area of campaign literature."

The posters advertised in the promotion purported to show Rhodes nude in front of the statehouse, covering himself with a copy of a 1969 issue of Life magazine carrying a headline, "The Governor and the Mobster."

The now defunct magazine did carry such an article, claiming Rhodes had problems with his federal income tax and indirectly claiming he had been friendly with mobsters.

Rhodes sued Time-Life Corp. for libel, but dismissed the action shortly after he lost the May, 1970 U.S. Senate primary battle to Robert Taft Jr.

A local advertising man said he posed nude for the poster for $25. A picture of Rhodes' face was then superimposed over the nude body and that in turn, put onto a picture of the north side of the statehouse.

Wickline Wins 3 Prizes In Poultry Show

The 1974 Pickaway County Fair's poultry show included a variety of our fine feathered friends and many a cock-a-doodle-doo was heard from that area of the fairgrounds. Entries varied in color, form, breed and ranged from a giant turkey fearful of becoming the main course not at the fair but at the Thanksgiving feast a few months from now to a pair of proud pigeons.

After all the judging was complete, however, three of the grand champion prizes were carried away by Bill Wickline, Route 1, Kingston. Winning the prize as grand champion chicken and also as grand champion bantam, Wickline had entered a Black Cochon Bantam Hen. His Barred Rock Hen was also considered the grand champion large chicken.

James Dennewitz, Route 8, Chillicothe, took the grand champion goose prize with his White Emden Gander. The grand champion duck was a White Runner owned by Patrick Dawson, Route 2, Williamsport.

A beautiful pair of Silverbar Homers took the grand champion pair of pigeons prize. The prize winning homers were owned by Loren Payne, 423 S. Scioto St.

The final prize in the poultry show was a "harey" entry owned by Perry Doyle Cupp. Cupp's Sandy Flemish Giant Doe (and she was a big one) won the grand champion rabbit ribbon.

Track Record Set By Short At Pickaway County Fair

A track record was established at the Pickaway County Fair Wednesday when Jerry MacPherson with Forrest Short in the sulky toured the local oval in 2:04.

Short, the county's fine gentleman of the harness sport, eclipsed a mark of 2:04.3 set 23 years ago by My Volo, reined by Eddie Morgan.

Jerry MacPherson is owned by Forrest and Harry Short. In addition to setting the track record, Jerry MacPherson also now owns the 3-year-old pacing record at the track.

His record came in the first heat of the 3-year-old pace stake, the third race of the day. Jerry MacPherson started in the number two post position, moved into the lead just after the first quarter and was never really threatened for the rest of the way. The first quarter was raced in 31 seconds, Jerry MacPherson reached the half in 1:03.2 and the three-quarter pole in 1:33.2. Sweet Interlude was second in the heat and Cita Star was third.

In the second heat of the race, Short took his 3-year-old star to the top right out of the starting gate and held the lead all the way winning in 2:08. Purse in the race was $2,164. King Duncan was second and Hoosier Stinger third in the second heat.

The first race of the afternoon's program was a conditioned pace for 3 and 4-year-old pacers. Imas Best, owned and driven by Nelson R. Green of New Holland, captured both heats, winning the first in 2:10 and the second in 2:09.

Finishing second in the first heat was Don Duane, driven by Porter Martin and owned by Ralph Stir Jr. of Ashville and Marguerite Shelton of Circleville. Miracle June Bug was third. In the second heat Bunk's Butler was second and Miracle June Bug again finished third.

The second race was a pace for non winners of $5,000. The finish was exactly the same in both heats. Archer Berry, owned by Richard and Joe Asher of New Holland with Mike Neal in the sulky paced the first trip in 2:07.3 and the second in 2:09.1. Plucky Porter, owned by Ralph Stir Jr. and driven by Paul Norris was second both times and Miss Sandy Hook, owned and driven by Jim Zimmerman of Circleville was third. Rounding out the five horse field, Towaliga Blue, owned by Clyde E. Kohn and driven by Ralph Isaac was fourth and Choice, driven by Jim Pollock and owned by Joan Ricky and Charles Ebenhack was fifth.

The second division of the 3-year-old pace stake was won by Clarence Ruble, driven by Marty Wollam and owned by Little Creek Stables of Chillicothe. The time of the first heat was 2:06.3 and the second 2:07.4. Pansy's Knight owned by R. D. Lowe and driven by Chet Dewbre made it a race in both heats but just ran out of track, finishing second both times. Justa Scamp owned by Dr. Robert Johns and Noel Hiatt and driven by Thad McRae was second both times.

The fourth race was the 2-year-old trot stake for a purse of $3,988. Janellepe owned by Harry Glaney and driven by M. Halimeyer captured both heats, the first in 2:14.3 and the second in 2:16. Nosie Annie was second and Scarlet N Gray third in the first mile. The second mile saw Twin City Nanci finish second and Scarlet N Gray third again.

"I think this is one of the most successful two days of harness racing at the Pickaway County Fair in many years. I want to thank the fairboard for the cooperation they gave the speed committee. We are already making plans for a bigger and better program next year," John Fissell, secretary of the speed committee said following yesterday's racing program.

Fissell complimented Harlow Arledge for an excellent job in getting the track in shape for yesterday's program.

The track had mistakenly been conditioned for the tractor pull and Arledge had his hands full getting it ready in time for the races. "If the sun hadn't been bright and hot we couldn't have done it," Arledge reported.

Trophy blankets for the racing program this year were donated by R&N Steele's, Lindsey's Bake Shop, Southeastern Ohio Colt Circuit, Shaeffer Tier Center, Savings Bank, BPO Elks No. 77, Stonerock's TV and Sturm and Dillard Co.

The outrider was Elizabeth Schumm for Wednesday's races riding Sir Errett. Tuesday it was Carolyn Roundhouse on Sweetheart's Masterpiece.

WINNER—Arch Barry, owned by Richard and Joe Asher of New Holland and Columbus and driven by Mike Neal, stretches to win the second heat of the pace race Wednesday. The horse, which won both heats, paced in 2:07.3 and 2:09.1. Blanket was donated by the BPO Elks.

NEW RECORD—Forrest Short, driving Jerry MacPherson, lets his horse go down the stretch to win the first heat of the three-year-old pace stakes. Its time of 2:04.4 was a new track record at the fair. Jerry MacPherson also won the second heat and the Stonerock's TV blanket in 2:08.

IN THE TURN—Clarence Ruble, driven by Marty Wollam and owned by Little Creek Stable, Chillicothe, leads the field in the three-year-old stakes. The horse went on to win the race in 2:06.3 and came back in the second heat for a 2:07.2 win.

Piranhas Win Mt. Pleasant Swim League Championship

Showing an awesome display of power and depth, the Circleville Piranha Swim Team virtually swam the Newark Neptune Swim Club right out of the water last night, in winning their seventh straight swim meet of the season by a 452-98 score.

The Piranhas were also Mt. Pleasant Champions in 1970 and in 1972. In clinching the championship, Circleville swimmers won 17 of 18 relays and 42 of 48 individual events.

Individual winners were: Roganne Bowers, Jeff Davies, Steve Penn and J. L. Arledge with three each; Ann Titus, Kristin Churchill, Mark Beck, Jodi Harker, Mary Romero, Lee Huskey, Norma Moore, and Billy Lyle with two each; Maureen Madden, Randy Huffer, Kelly Harker, Deadria VanCamp, Mike McCrady, Debbie Springer, Melonie Free, Laura Kazmierczak, Cindy Springer, Dave Cook, Carrie Churchill, Eric Romero, Cindy Sparks and Jay Dorff with one each.

The Circleville swimmers will close out their summer schedule Sunday at Groveport when they take part in the championship meet, scheduled to start at 9 a.m. with the finals to start at 2 p.m. The Sunday meet is not a team event, as the championship has been determined from dual meets throughout the summer. The championship is an individuals meet, with no team scores kept. Trophies will be awarded to each individual winner, with medals to second and third place and ribbons to fourth, fifth and sixth place. In relays, the winners will each receive a large medalion, with medals to second and third place winners, and ribbons to fourth, fifth and sixth places.

On Aug. 4, 16 of the Piranhas have accepted invitations to the Second Annual Millersport Invitational.

According to Head Coach Jim Shea, the annual banquet for the local swim team will be held in early September, with special planning in order for the new 1974 League Champions.

Dolphins Below Par For Game

MIAMI (AP) — Cincinnati fans will have a rude awakening Saturday night if they believe Bengals Coach Paul Brown's talk about playing against "the best there is" — the Miami Dolphins.

"It will be something to find out how our young players perform against a team the stature of Miami," Brown said Wednesday.

But Saturday's Dolphins won't resemble the National Football League championship teams of the past two years.

It's a makeshift unit filled with rookies, many of whom Coach Don Shula admits are in camp only because there is a players' strike.

Larry Csonka won't be at fullback, Bob Griese won't be at quarterback and Paul Warfield won't be at wide receiver. Fans won't see the likes of AP defensive player of the year Dick Anderson, a safety, or all-pro offensive guard Larry Little.

The Dolphins had 20 veterans in camp after the arrival Wednesday of placekicker Garo Yepremian, linebacker Mike Kolen, cornerback Tim Foley and reserve safety Charlie Babb.

But as is the case with most NFL teams, only a few veterans are regulars. Only 75 of 267 NFL veterans in camps were 1973 starters. Miami has only eight.

Fullen, Martin Win Second Round

Round 2 of the Men's League at Upper Lansdown has been completed with Owen Fullen and Waldo Martin declared the winners with 34 points. Fullen and Martin will now play the first round winners Pete Cook and Ron Harman to decide the grand champions.

In the last night of competition Frank Vavrock shot low net with a 29. Dennis Smith and Damon Welch tied for low gross as they both shot 39's.

Babe Ruth All-Stars Take Second In Tourney

The Circleville Independents, a group of local all-star Babe Ruth League players, finished second in a Babe Ruth double-elimination tournament in Washington C.H. last weekend.

Hillsboro topped the local stars 6-3 July 20 in the first game of the tournament, but the Independents rebounded for three straight wins. They clubbed London 23-0, nipped Leesburg 6-4, and thumped Hillsboro 16-6.

In the chapionship game, Washington C.H., the eventual winner, knocked the Independents from contention with a come-from-behind 9-8 win.

The Independents were sponsored by Porter's Car Wash. As a team, they hit .409, scoring 56 runs on 61 hits.

Biff Bumgarner was the big hitter with seven hits in 17 times at the plate for a .764 average.

Other batting averages are Frank Merrill, .125; Brent Mancini, .625; Jerry Strawser, .533; Doug McGlone, .471; Bob Fuller, .412; Bill Mogan, .200; Tom McGuire, .214; Brian Fath, .308; Herb Lutz, .166; and Scott Barthelmas, .666.

Bob Fuller crashed three homeruns and a double, Mancini tagged a homer, a triple, and three doubles, Bumgarner powered a homer and two doubles, McGuire hit a homer and a double, Merrill hit two doubles, Strawser had two doubles, and McGlone, Fath, and Lutz all had doubles.

Team pitching percentage was 2.12. Mancini had a 1-0 record with a 2.25 ERA, Bumgarner had a 1-1 mark with a 2.77 ERA, and McGlone was 1-1 with a 1.00 ERA.

American Athletes Dominate Contest

OSLO, Norway (AP) — American athletes dominated most of the events Wednesday in the sixth Martin Luther King Memorial Track and Field games at Bislett Stadium, but U.S. miler Marty Liquori was narrowly beaten by local favorite Knut Kvalheim in spite of running his quickest race for several years.

Liquori clocked 3 minutes 56.6 seconds, 4-10 of a second behind the Norwegian winner.

Clint Courtney, former major league catcher, manages Richmond, Va., in the International League.

Manuel Rivera won the 1974 Belmont Stakes with favored Little Current. It was the first time the Puerto Rican jockey rode in the mile and a half test.

Gullett, Reds Blank Astros

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Cincinnati hurler Don Gullett, 13-7, tossed a 4-0 two-hit shutout to the Houston Astros Wednesday night in what Reds Manager George "Sparky" Anderson called "a must game."

"I was really concerned about this game," said Anderson afterward as the Reds trailed National League western division leading Los Angeles by 5½ games.

"I just felt all night that the Dodgers were going to win again."

The Reds departed after the game for a crucial seven-game series on the West Coast, three of them with the Dodgers. The Reds play the Giants in San Francisco tonight and Friday night.

"We have to keep it within 4½ to 5½ games when we get to L.A. in order to have a good shot at them head to head," Anderson said.

It was Gullett's fourth shutout of the season. He has the only victory this season for Cincinnati over the Dodgers, a shutout July 2.

"I had a great fastball and hard slider," said Gullett of Wednesday night's game.

The Astros two hits were both made by Roger Metzger, a single "off a bad fork ball" in the fourth, and another to open the seventh inning. Cesar Cedeño followed with his second walk of the game and pitching Coach Larry Sheppard headed to the mound.

"He told me I had no pop on the ball. He said to kick out with my leg and throw like I can," said Gullett, who then got out of the inning.

Only five Astros reached base on Gullett, the fifth on an error.

"I had as good stuff as I've had all year," said Gullett.

The Reds tagged loser Tom Griffin, 11-4, for two runs in the second inning on three straight singles by Johnny Bench, Tony Perez, and Danny Driessen who collected the runs batted in.

North Favored In All-Star Clash

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — The North will carry a 3½-point favorite's role into the statewide-televised 29th annual Ohio North-South High School All-Star Football Game Friday night.

Unlike past years when one side boasted a decided weight edge and an advantage in speed, the 1974 all-stars are about as evenly matched as possible.

The Yankees, seeking a fourth successive win, will start an offensive line which averages 6-foot-1 and 232 pounds a player, offensive running backs whose mean is 6-foot and 195 or 6-1 and 192.5, depending upon who is the opening tailback; a defensive front five at 6-3 and 226, and four linebackers at 6-0, 201.

The South's only edge is in its linebackers. They average 6-2 and 218. The Rebels' offensive forward wall goes 6-3, 216 per starter. The South running backs average 6-0, 192 and its defensive front four 6-3, 229.

Because of the balance, the contest could boil down to the right foot of Youngstown Boardman's Christopher Dennis, a soccer-style booter for the North, and the right foot of Ironton's Rick Massey.

Both Dennis, the first kicking specialist selected for the classic, and Massey, a 6-3, 230-pound backup quarterback linebacker, have impressive credentials.

It will be a matter for the offensive teams—the Rebels winged-T against a 5-4 defense and the Yankees' stacked-I versus a 4-3 look—to give each the opportunity. Each is deadly within 40 yards, and each has had good distances in all-star drills.

"Ball control" is South head coach Neal Billman's quick pregame observation.

"One of our objectives is to keep the football so Bell can't play," Billman asserted. Bell is Ted Bell, the North's heralded tailback from Youngstown Cardinal Mooney. Bell was named the Associated Press' Class AAA Back of the Year in 1973 when he led Cardinal Mooney to the Ohio "big school" playoff title.

"It looks like a very tight contest and the specialty teams may make the difference," the Gahanna Lincoln head coach added.

"Our philosophy is the same. We'll try to establish the ground games," North pilot Don Bucci of Cardinal Mooney said of the ground-oriented play he and Billman prefer.

"I'm not a throwing coach, but I think we're capable of putting the ball into the air and I know we have some very fine receivers," the Yankees' skipper said.

Cincinnati got their last two tallies in the third beginning with a double by Cesar Geronimo.

Geronimo went to third on Pete Rose's fielders choice grounder. He scored when trapped off third on a grounder as Griffin dropped the ball trying to tag him. Tony Perez hit a sacrifice fly scoring Joe Morgan. Both runs were unearned.

Al Hrabosky is proving that patience is indeed a virtue.

The patience, in this case, belonged to St. Louis Manager Red Schoendienst, who stuck with Hrabosky even though the 25-year-old left-hander got off to a horrid start this season.

The latest dividend on Schoendienst's confidence came Wednesday night, when Hrabosky put the clamps on a Philadelphia comeback and saved a 9-8 victory for the Cards, lifting St. Louis into a first-place tie with Philadelphia in the National League East.

Hrabosky's earned run average ballooned as high as 10.43 earlier this year.

Elsewhere in the National League, the Atlanta Braves routed the San Francisco Giants 9-0, the Montreal Expos swept a doubleheader from the Chicago Cubs 7-4 and 4-0, the Pittsburgh Pirates pounded the New York Mets 8-3, the Cincinnati Reds blanked the Houston Astros 4-0 and the Los Angeles Dodgers routed the San Diego Padres 15-4.

Hrabosky was the winning pitcher as St. Louis beat Philadelphia 4-3 Tuesday and picked up his fourth save of the year Wednesday.

Dodgers 15, Padres 4

Ron Cey drove in eight runs, clubbing a pair of three-run homers and a two-run single. His single highlighted a six-run Dodger third inning, while his homers in the eighth and ninth put the finishing touches on the rout.

Los Angeles is 9-0 over San Diego this year.

Braves 9, Giants 0

Knuckleballer Phil Niekro, 11-9, extended his scoreless innings string to 21 by blanking the Giants on four hits.

Vic Correll slammed a grand slam home run for the Braves in the seventh inning. It was his first major league homer.

Expos 7-4, Cubs 4-0

Mike Jorgensen drove in five runs in the opening game for the Expos. In the nightcap Dennis Blair and John Montague combined to pitch a two-hitter and Ken Singleton and Ron Fairly belted homers.

In the first game, Chicago starter Bill Bonham tied a major league record held by 12 pitchers by striking out four batters in one inning. His third strike to pitcher Mike Torrez opening the second inning escaped catcher Dick Stelmazek for a passed ball, Torrez reaching first. Then Bonham struck out Ron Hunt, Tim Foli and Willie Davis.

Pirates 8, Mets 3

Last year's Cy Young Award winner, Tom Seaver, was belted for eight runs in 4 2/3 innings, two of them on a first-inning homer by Willie Stargell. The Pirates wrapped it up with four runs in the fifth.

Grain, Animal Prices Up Sharply

WASHINGTON (AP) — Grain and meat animal prices on the farm jumped sharply during the month ended July 15 and are once again putting pressure on consumer food costs.

Over-all, the Agriculture Department said Wednesday, prices farmers get for raw products averaged 6 per cent higher than they did a month before on June 15.

Although corn prices soared to a new peak and wheat climbed again, the high livestock prices could be felt soonest in the consumer market.

Grains, basically, take longer to be converted into supermarket foods.

Cattle prices, which had slumped for month, averaged $35 per 100 pounds of live weight at mid-month. Although up $2.70 from June 15, the average was still far below the record of $51.70 last August.

Hog prices jumped the most during the month, rising $11 to $34.50 per hundredweight in mid-July. Last summer hogs hit a peak of $56.50 at the farm.

Despite declines for sheep and lambs, the department's price index for all meat animals was up 16 per cent from mid-June. However, it was 21 per cent below the July 15 level last year. Meat accounts for nearly one-third of family food spending.

Corn prices, prompted by severe dry weather and prospects for a reduced harvest next fall, soared to a record $2.91 per bushel at the farm, up from $2.57 in June and the previous high of $2.76 per bushel last February. Wheat rose to an average farm price nationally of $4.04 per bushel from $3.57 in June. The record was set at $5.52 per bushel last February. In another report Wednesday USDA said the wheat price outlook is uncertain.

"Normally, a bountiful crop depresses prices at harvest but that has not happened so far this season," the department's Outlook and Situation Board said.

"Farmers have not marketed as much of the early harvest as usual and with market supplies tight and prospects declining for feed grains early season buying has pushed prices up sharply," the board said.

The over-all farm price increase from June 15 to July 15 was the first since last February. The index then declined for four consecutive months. But despite the higher level on July 15 the index was only 1 per cent above its mark on the same date last year, the department said.

Not all commodities showed increases from June to July. Prices for milk, cotton, peaches and dry beans led those which declined, the report said. The dairy price index, for example, dropped five per cent during the month, while the fruit price index declined 12 per cent from mid-June.

Woman Fights To Retain Gas Station

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Mrs. Janet Markusic, a two-month widow, said she'll take the Union Oil Co. to court if the company takes away the service station her husband had operated.

"They sent me a letter telling me that according to their policy the lease ended the day my husband died," the mother of five said.

She said a Union Oil representative told her they turned down her lease application because they believed she should remain home with her children.

"This is the only job I know to support my family," the 41-year-old widow said. Her children range in age from 8 to 15.

"We're really not trying to snatch food out of the mouths of a widow and her five children," a company representative said.

He said the company chose one of the other five applicants for the lease "because we felt he would be the most suitable person to run the business."

E. Bruce Hadden, Mrs. Markusic's attorney, said the company has agreed to let Mrs. Markusic keep the station until Aug. 6, when the two sides have agreed to meet.

"If no agreement is reached then, we'll request a court hearing on a temporary restraining order we already have filed," Hadden said.

He said he will argue that Mrs. Markusic had an oral agreement with the company, that sex discrimination is involved, and that several state statutes will be violated if her lease is terminated.

Earlier this week friends and supporters of Mrs. Markusic picketed the Union Oil Co.'s regional headquarters here.

She said she doesn't know if the demonstration did her cause any good, but "it can't do me any harm."

Indian Lake Ski Zone Closed; Water Low

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Department of Natural Resources said Wednesday that the north ski zone at Indian Lake State Park will be temporarily closed because of the low water level.

A lack of rainfall has caused the lake's level to drop about a foot, said Rod Cooper, chief of DNR's division of parks and recreation.

He said underwater hazards such as tree stumps are coming closer to the surface.

No fires are being permitted in the camping area because dry ground conditions already have caused several grass fires, the chief said.

Cooper noted that both measures will remain in effect until enough rain falls to eliminate hazards.

MRS. JOE JENKINS — 474-5512

The rite of Holy Communion will be observed at both St. Jacob's Lutheran Church in Tarlton and the Trinity Lutheran Church in Stoutsville next Sunday, during the morning worship services.

The regular monthly council meeting at the St. Jacob's Church will be held on Aug. 11 following the morning worship service.

The congregation of the Methodist Church enjoyed the special musical numbers which were presented at the Sunday morning worship service. Mrs. Letha Murray sang two songs, accompanying herself on the guitar and Robert Mills played selections on the harmonica.

Members of St. Jacob's Lutheran Church Friendship Circle met at Old Man's Cave picnic grounds last Thursday for an evening of good food, hiking and recreation. Some spent the afternoon swimming at the lodge pool.

Those enjoying the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Strous, Sherry and Kevin, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Strous, Tracy, Steve and Kathy, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Swain and Randy, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Jones and Julie Hinton.

Mr. and Mrs. Gary O'Hara and Mr. and Mrs. Carl O'Hara of Phoenix, Ariz. have returned home after visiting Mr. and Mrs. George O'Hara and other relatives and friends in the area and in Lancaster.

Mrs. Genevieve Hedges was the Wednesday guest of her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Brown (Louise Pritchard) of Lancaster.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hawks and family were Saturday dinner guests of Mrs. Lenna Turvey.

Bryce Young, Route 1, Circleville, was the guest of honor at a family carry-in supper at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Mary Welsh, Route 3, on Saturday evening. The occasion honored Mr. Young on his 84th birthday.

Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. James Pontius, Kingston; Mr. and Mrs. Larry Pontius and children, Circleville; Mr. and Mrs. Roger Clarke and children and Mrs. Ann Stevens, Tarlton.

Mrs. Iva Bowman, Columbus, spent last week with her daughter, Mrs. Letha Murray.

The community extends its sympathy to the family of the late Mrs. Newton (Minnie) Kerns, who passed away on Friday.

Sympathy is also extended to the family of the late Mrs. Tom (Dora)

Willard who died Saturday at Ross County Medical Center.

Ella Mae Jenkins visited recently with Mrs. Eli Hedges and Mrs. Dorothy Adkins, Circleville. Mrs. Hedges is recovering from a broken leg which she incurred earlier this summer.

The King's Helpers Class of the Methodist Church met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Jenkins on Saturday evening.

The Reverend Raymond Welch read the 27th Psalm and led the prayer. Lucia Spangler conducted the business meeting and reports were given by Betty McJunkin and Mabel Cox. The Welches invited the class to meet at their home for the August meeting.

Refreshments were served by the Jenkinse to the Rev. and Mrs. Welch, Lucia Spangler, Ruth Hunt, Lenna Turvey, Mabel Cox, Genevieve Hedges, Mr. and Mrs. George O'Hara, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Rhymer, Crystal and Glenn, Lorraine and Larissa Rhymer and Betty McJunkin.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Downs and Melessia have returned from a week's vacation in Myrtle Beach, S. C. They also enjoyed a day at King's Island.

Final plans are being made for the annual fish fry of the Tarlton Methodist Church, to be held at the Tarlton Town Hall on Aug. 8. Serving will begin at 4 p.m.

The first fish fry was held on Sept. 20, 1935 and was a joint effort of the Methodist, Lutheran and Presbyterian churches. It has been held continuously since then except for the year of 1943.

The Rev. Raymond Welch is pastor of the church and everyone is invited to attend early.

KSU Date Turned Over To Lawyers

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Some documents from the government's investigation of the 1970 Kent State University shootings have been furnished to defense attorneys representing former Ohio national guardsmen.

The documents were filed Wednesday in U.S. District Court in response to a request by attorneys representing eight former guardsmen who were indicted in the shootings.

Most of the material furnished either has been released previously or leaked from government sources.

Included were a 35-page summary of the voluminous FBI reports on the investigation, a six-page memo containing the Justice Department's preliminary conclusions and recommendations, and memos to government lawyers concerning the status of the state's investigation.

One of the documents indicates that the government considered filing a civil suit rather than pressing for criminal indictments in hopes of having the Ohio National Guard placed in a sort of receivership status with a special master appointed to make reforms.

Another suggests letting state officials handle the prosecution of persons charged with burning the university ROTC building so that Justice Department investigators would look like good guys when interviewing students and faculty members.

The defense had asked for access to records of the Scranton Commission's report and other material related to the incident from the National Archives in Washington.

See Lottery Racketeering

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—An imposter in some parts of the state is offering to obtain licenses to sell lottery tickets for $100, a Lottery Commission spokesman said Wednesday.

The spokesman said two merchants in Gallipolis and one in East Sparta were contacted by a man falsely representing himself as a lottery employee.

The imposter offered to obtain lottery ticket sales licenses for $100, payable in installments, the commission spokesman said.

The imposter said the licenses could be obtained immediately if the money were paid in a lump sum, the spokesman said.

Police in the two communities have agreed to aid the lottery commission in investigating the incidents, the spokesman said.

The apparent racket was discovered when legitimate commission representatives contacted the merchants, the spokesman said.

Ohio Weather

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A fair weather high pressure system will move through Ohio today and bring abundant sunshine to most of the state, and cause temperatures to climb into the upper 70s and the 80s.

Clouds will begin increasing in the western counties during the day as a disturbance moves out of the Great Plains and towards Ohio. Showers and thundershowers will possibly move into western Ohio early Friday and cover most of the state by Friday evening.

Afternoon temperatures are to continue warm with readings in the upper 70s and mid 80s.

These showers will bring slight relief to the drought conditions prevailing over some sections of Ohio, the National Weather Service said.

Ohio Turnpike Revenues Down

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio turnpike revenues this month were down 3.4 per cent compared to last July, Ohio Turnpike Commission Chairman W. Shocknessy said Tuesday.

Shocknessy noted however, that the estimated $4.85 million collected for July, 1974, is still more than the amount collected during July, 1972.

He said $1.5 million in revenue bonds were bought by the turnpike trustees during July, bringing the total bond retirement to $195.9 million.

The commission said it expected to retire the remaining $130 million in bonds by 1980 or 1981.

LCI Project Helps Prisoners

LONDON, Ohio (AP) — It's called "Multi-Disciplinary Treatment, Remediation and Education," but it's just a game prison inmates play.

Hiding behind the cumbersome title is a pilot project at the London Correctional Institution designed to help inmates change their behavior patterns by developing better attitudes and values.

The project developed at the medium security facility last year got under way May 20.

Earl Stump, London psychologist, said the game goes like this:

An inmate calls a game and indicts a fellow inmate for some infraction of behavior. From 9 to 35 other inmates participate in trying to break down the indicted man's defenses and make him confront himself.

The rules permit anything short of physical abuse—lies, sneers, laughter or whatever attack might breach the man's defense. Tensions can become great and emotions high.

"We try to decompress before the game is over," said Stump. "You can see the men becoming exhausted and getting tired. When we sum up we try to point out we aren't attacking the individual, just his behavior."

"If a guy has been hurt, he's usually over that in two days. We've cleared up communications so well."

Stump said the project already has succeeded in making the 35 volunteers accept responsibility for their dormitory and behavior.

"In most systems when you are an inmate people tell you what to do and you have a perfect right on occasion to act irresponsibly. With the game you can't act irresponsibly. As in civilian life you are responsible for the rules that you make," he said.

The project is being tested on multiple offenders, convicts he said comprise a neglected group in rehabilitation efforts, Stump said.

Prison staffers also are working with transactional analysis, described as a "theory of personality which focuses upon the interactions among people and tries to obtain the clearest possible communication among their true feelings."

Ohio State University's Program for the Study of Crime and Delinquency is scheduled to evaluate the success of the London program.

"Ultimately we hope that the man coming out will be able to fit better into civilian life," said Stump.

The Law Enforcement Assistance Administration funded the London project with nearly $225,000.

Tribe Drops Tilt To Orioles

BALTIMORE (AP)—First, Gaylord Perry junked his famed fastball. Then he lost a 15-game winning streak. Now, the Baltimore Orioles feel he may be losing something off his fastball.

The veteran Cleveland pitcher discounts the theory, however, and Manager Ken Aspromonte of the Indians bristles at trying to offer excuses for Perry's current four-game losing streak.

Failing for the fifth time to record victory No. 16, Perry instead suffered his fifth loss Wednesday night as the Orioles won 7-4 after scoring five runs in the opening inning.

"You don't have to try and find an alibi for a pitcher like Gaylord," Aspromonte said. "He's human, like the rest of us. He had an off night, that's all there is to it."

"He had a spell like this last year, and one in 1972, so it's not new. I'm not worried. He'll come back."

The Orioles, who last Friday scored three runs in the ninth and four more in the 11th inning to beat Perry 9-5, contend he's just not throwing as hard as earlier in the season.

"He's strong as a horse and could bounce back in his next outing," said Baltimore's Bobby Grich, who drove in three runs.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): Opportunities in a new field will interest you considerably. Study well — if only to grasp at an avocation.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): Judgments of the a.m. could not only be a bit "cloudy" but, if based on overoptimism, could have disappointing results. Your instincts can be trusted after 3 p.m., however.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): Avoid overtaxing yourself — a tendency now. Temper your ambitions and desires with common sense.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 23): A good day for closing profitable deals or arriving at accords which will make them possible. Cut a few corners if you can.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): Get important matters out of the way by noon, if possible. Certain planetary restrictions in the p.m. could bring about delays, unexpected interruptions.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Do not judge the actions of others lightly — or with suspicion. Study all factors carefully and you will arrive at more reliable conclusions.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): You can make unusual progress in many areas now. Get your mind clicking early, and in tune with present trends.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Aspects indicate the possibility of some deception in your area. Be alert and ready to counteract with firmness. Above all, avoid those who have deceived you before.

YOU BORN TODAY, like most Leoties, present an outward appearance on self-confidence and self-assuredness but, unlike most others born under your Sign, this often masks an inner feeling of timidity and insecurity. Try to curb this self-doubt for you have been endowed with so many fine characteristics and talents that, properly educated, of course, there are no heights which you cannot attain. Surest avenues of success:

The stage, literature, science and the law. If attracted to business, manufacturing would be your best bet but, in such case, be sure to have some artistic outlet for contentment and fulfillment. Views On Television

NEW YORK (AP) — The three TV networks, electronic eyes steady and microphones ready, say their annual pro football blitz will start on schedule this month, even if some of the best-known players don't.

The 32-day-old NFL players' strike still is under way and less than 2½ weeks remain before the start of preseason play, a Cincinnati Bengals-Atlanta Falcons joust NBC will televise on Aug. 17.

Even if the strike isn't over by then, ABC, NBC and CBS officials say, there still are no current plans to drop any games from the three-network schedule of 196 games, from preseason to Pro Bowl.

The only uncertain note is sounded by a spokesman for ABC Sports President Roone Arledge, whose network has 18 pro games—including the Jan. 20 Pro Bowl in Miami—coming up this season.

Asked if ABC might not televise several of the early games if the strike doesn't end, the spokesman replied: "That's a hard question, because we've talked about that and really haven't made a decision."

But he emphasized that as of now, ABC's schedule remains unchanged. As if ABC doesn't have enough to worry about, its "NFL Monday Night Football" opener on Aug. 19 will, for the first time in its history, be competing against NBC's "Monday Night Baseball" game. At CBS, and NBC, each facing an 89-game schedule, the official word is that no games will be dropped, even if the strike continues.

The year's pro football package is costing the networks in excess of $52 million.

Industry sources say ABC, whose games are in costly prime evening time, is charging national advertisers an average of $100,000 per minute for its preseason and regular season games.

The preseason tab at CBS and NBC is $60,000 and $49,000 a minute, respectively, sources say. The networks, which decline to say what prices they're charging, each plan to air three preseason games.

Horses Owned By Syndicates

LONDON (AP) — More than 100 of the horses now racing in Britain are owned by syndicates. An example is Today, which won a purse of 500 pounds ($1,200) at Epsom in April. The horse is owned by 12 employees of the British Broadcasting Corp. who each paid 100 pounds ($24) for a share in the horse six months ago. Each pays another 10 pounds ($24) a month for feeding and training costs. Most of Today's purse was swallowed up by expenses, and the Jockey Club said that few syndicates are showing a profit.

Report Headway In NFL Negotiations

WASHINGTON (AP) — Negotiations toward ending the 32-day-old National Football League player strike made their first real headway Wednesday, as chief federal mediator W.J. Usery supervised nearly 14 hours of discussions.

The talks, which began at 10 a.m., EDT, and paused only for a two-hour lunch break, were recessed at 1:50 a.m., EDT, today.

"There comes a point when it's best to break it off, and I thought it was the best time now," a tired Usery said.

The groups were to return to the bargaining table at 2 p.m., EDT, this afternoon.

Usery would not elaborate on progress made in the session, during which he had met separately with representatives of the NFL Players Association and NFL Management Council. The groups held face-to-face discussions for only one hour and 45 minutes.

"We have been talking on all the issues—we've been talking long and hard," said Usery. "The logic is that now that we've got them talking, there's a chance to consummate an agreement."

"We had suggestions back and forth. When you go back and forth, you don't know where you stand."

But apparent progress had been made. Usery later told newsmen that "substantive issues had been discussed."

The statement apparently referred to the "freedom issues" which created the bargaining stalemate and led to the player strike that started July 1.

Today's talks marked the third consecutive day of negotiations, which were resumed after nine days of silence. Sources predicted today's session might go around the clock in an effort to reach an agreement.

Neither group would comment on Wednesday's meetings.

It was understood that the NFLPA had not presented a counterproposal to the counter demands, a condition considered necessary for serious bargaining. A source close to the strike talks said Usery's goal was to persuade each side to consider proposals that would neither be totally accepted nor rejected outright.

Corcoran Leads Bell Over Portland

By BRUCE LOWITT
AP Sports Writer

Jim Corcoran re-established himself as King of the Hill.

Matthew Reed made another successful appearance as a pretender to the throne.

And Jefferson Davis very nearly became a knight in shining armor.

"King" Corcoran passed for a pair of touchdowns to lead the Philadelphia Bell to a 25-7 swamping of Portland.

Reed once again took over for injured quarterback George Mira and swept into the end zone with about two minutes to play, giving Birmingham a 21-18 victory over Detroit.

And Davis, a reserve running back, rushed into the breach when Jacksonville's two quarterbacks were knocked out of action—but couldn't quite pull off a miracle and the New York Stars held on for a 24-16 victory over the Sharks.

In Wednesday night's other World Football League game, Houston's offense finally scored a touchdown of its very own—barely—and the Texans eked out a 7-6 victory over Florida, handing the Blazers their first setback. In tonight's nationally televised game, the Southern California Sun plays the Southmen in Memphis.

Corcoran, who heaved two touchdowns in the Bell's 33-8 romp over the Storm three weeks ago, flipped two this time to rookie tight end LeVell Hill, a three-yarder midway in the second period and an 11-yarder early in the final quarter.

John Land's 31-yard run and Richard Szaro's 40-yard field goal, both late in the first half, put the game away for the Bell.

The fourth quinella, 3-7, paid $32.10; while the seventh quinella, 1-3, paid $13.50, and the ninth quinella, 3-4, paid $6.90.

A crowd of 5,628 bet $278,867.

Steel Strike Never Threat

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Someday, this day may be remembered for the steel strike that never was.

Midnight of Aug. 1 has been the traditional deadline for a contract agreement between the nation's 10 largest steel firms and their employees represented by the United Steelworkers of America (USW).

Even when a last-minute settlement could be reached, as happened far more often than not over the past 25 years, the prior threat of a shutdown could have far-reaching effects on the economy, the industry and the steelworkers.

This year, the atmosphere is calm because the new contract is already in effect, agreed to months ago under terms of what the union and industry call the Experimental Negotiating Agreement (ENA).

Signed in May, 1973, the ENA provided a guarantee against a nationwide strike or lockout by requiring all unsettled issues in a national contract be submitted to binding arbitration in advance of the deadline.

As things worked out, a new contract was signed last May 3 without the need for arbitration.

Kentucky Boards Under Attack

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Some legislative sentiment has been expressed for exercising control over state licensing boards to be sure they do not discriminate against new applicants.

Suggestions along that line came in Wednesday's meeting of the interim legislative committee on business organizations and professions. Rep. Sam Thomas, D-Lebanon, for example, noted that a person without hands would be unable to take the written test for a real estate salesman's license, and said the requirement should be modified.

Sen. Daisy Thaler, D-Louisville, said such consideration should also be given persons with other impairments and disabilities that could keep them from taking written tests for various occupations.

Iron Ore Firms Hit By Walkout

DULUTH, Minn. (AP) — The United Steelworkers of America walked off their jobs at midnight Wednesday, idling five iron ore companies on Minnesota's Mesabi Iron Range and a Duluth foundry.

Union members began picketing the firm's installations on the range following the breakdown of contract bargaining sessions in Duluth.

Union negotiators said a strike deadline involving the White Pine Copper Co. in White Pine, Mich., has been extended until 12:01 a.m. Saturday. The Michigan discussions involve about 2,600 employees.

The strike idles about 10,200 iron mine workers in the range communities and about 130 employees of the National Iron Co., a major foundry in the Duluth area.

The strike is against Reserve Mining Co., Erie Mining Co., Eveleth Taconite Co., Hanna Mining Co. and Cleveland Cliffs Iron Co.

The strike decision was made about 10 p.m. Wednesday and was announced by Peter J. Benzoni, Duluth, District 33 director for USW. The contract expired at midnight.

Union and management representatives "still are pretty far apart on the unresolved issues," Benzoni said. Among them he listed pay raises, pensions, hours of work, job evaluation, improved attendance bonuses, safety and health, and some "local issues."

Lape Serves 29 Years At Plant

Leroy A. Lape, 65, Route 3, Little Walnut, walked out the doors of the Circleville Water Plant, 2 a.m. Wednesday for his last time as an employee.

Beginning in October 1945, Lape worked for the Ohio Water Service, the then owners of the water system in Circleville. The city took over the plant in the summer of 1946.

His first job was reading meters before going into regular service work, with a beginning salary of $60 a week.

Looking back a few years, Lape and Bill Blaney were the first ones to work in the new plant which opened in 1963. Trying to single out the biggest change between the old and new facility, Lape said, "There's no comparison in working facilities, the new business or operation is altogether different."

Lape began working in the old facility (across the river) with only four tools.

There were approximately 2000 accounts in 1945 when Lape started compared to 4500 in 1974. The water plant serves an estimated 13,500 people plus industry, according to Chuck Taylor.

The water rates in 1946 were $1.80 minimum, but that didn't include sewage. The bills were separate then. Lape said the two were combined under Irvin Leist, the Director of Public Utilities at that time. He commented that people aren't using as much water since the sewage rates went up.

Lape worked in a canning factory before joining the Army for three years, and working at the water plant. He served in the South Pacific and was trained in field artillery.

He has worked under only two Directors of Public Utilities, Irvin Leist and Chuck Taylor. He worked for Jack Martin, who was in charge in town, and to whom the water plant is dedicated.

Born in Stoutsville, March 15, 1909, Lape calls Circleville his home. He has one other living brother.

A single man all his life, Lape says he doesn't plan on doing much. "I've got two acres I plan on fooling around with."

Taylor described Lape as a dedicated man to his job.
